Particle/Cosmology Theory Postdoctoral Position

The Particle/Cosmology Theory Group at the Johns Hopkins University invites applications for a postdoctoral research position in theoretical high energy physics, beginning September 2013. The group consists of Jonathan Bagger, Marc Kamionkowski, David Kaplan, Jared Kaplan, and Kirill Melnikov as well as postdocs and students. A Ph.D in theoretical physics is required.

Applications should consist of a CV, list of publications, summary of research interests, and three letters of recommendation, submitted to AcademicJobsOnline, at www.academicjobsonline.org.

Johns Hopkins is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer, and welcomes applications from women and members of underrepresented groups.
